

By providing high speed networks, that utilise dynamic bandwidth provision to switch instantly between the greenest renewable energy sources, GÉANT is helping to demonstrate that advanced technology can be harnessed to cut Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) emissions.

Promoting green ICT

GÉANT is the high-performance pan-European communications infrastructure dedicated to the research and education community. Together with Europe's National Research and Education Networks, GÉANT connects 40 million users in over 8,000 institutions across 40 countries.

www.geant.net

