

Through dedicated high speed links, GÉANT connects remote radio telescopes around the world, providing researchers with real time distributed images of the solar system.

Exploring our universe

GÉANT is the high-performance pan-European communications infrastructure dedicated to the research and education community. Together with Europe's national research networks, GÉANT connects 40 million users in over 8,000 institutions across 40 countries.

www.geant.net