

Working with networks worldwide, GÉANT transfers vital climate observation data around the globe, aiding early weather warnings that can make life-or-death differences.

Helping to save lives

GÉANT is the high-performance pan-European communications infrastructure dedicated to the research and education community. Together with Europe's national research networks, GÉANT connects 40 million users in over 8,000 institutions across 40 countries.

www.geant.net

Making the Difference